The Globalisation of Urban Governance

Edited by Helmut Philipp Aust, Freie Universität Berlin, Germany and Anél du Plessis, North-West University, South Africa

Series: Cities and Global Governance

'... a must-read primer for any researcher interested in the role of cities in addressing global sustainable development goals.' —Benjamin J. Richardson, University of Tasmania

'A highly innovative book relevant to both the scholarly and policy discourse on the meaning of SDG11.'—Janne E. Nijman, University of Amsterdam

This important new book, edited by world leading experts on the topic Aust and du Plessis, shows how cities thus have become essential global actors for the achievement of sustainable development, and what are the implications for urban governance.'—Jonathan Verschuuren, Tilburg University

The Globalisation of Urban Governance makes an important scholarly contribution by linking the narrative on globalization of good urban governance in various social sciences with the legal discourse. It deliberates global governance and connects the existing debate about cities and their place in global governance with some of the most pertinent questions that lawyers face today.
