

Cassius Ali Latlhang

Cassius Ali Latlhang is currently a Konrad Adenauer Stiftung (KAS) Strong Cities 2030 LLM Researcher under the South African Research Chair in Cities, Law and Environmental Sustainability (CLES). He is also an admitted Attorney of all the superior courts of the Republic of Botswana. Cassius read his LLB at the University of Botswana where he attained a 2:1 grade.

Prior to joining the University of Botswana, he became an exchange student in Charleston Academy, Inverness Scotland. At the University of Botswana, he developed an enormous passion and interest in Constitutional Law, Land and Mineral Resources Law, Environmental and Property Law. He took extra-modules to augment his LLB degree, which included Modern State, Contemporary Africa, Politics of Poverty in Southern Africa, and Wetlands Research all of which contributed significantly in his desire to pursue post graduate studies in Constitutional Law and related subjects.

At CLES, Mr Latlhang's research will critically explore the role of Botswana land tenure system in countering urbanisation and stimulating it. Some of his research interests lie in Constitutional Property Law, Land Use Planning, Sustainable Development Law and the role of the Constitution in the attainment of sustainable and inclusive cities.
